If we could shrink ourselves down to the size of a 'matter particle', and we could look around inside a liquid, what would we see? We would see that the particles in the liquid are also very close together. Like solids, liquids cannot be compressed either.. Unlike solids, the particles in a liquid do not have fixed positions. They are always moving around.

Introducing the topic. In this unit, the learners will find out about what all living things have in common. The emphasis must not be on memorising facts or definitions but on activities that use process skills such as: observing differences, sorting and classifying, describing and drawing. As a teacher, you need to build the language needed for talking about concepts.
