A metalloid is a type of chemical element which has properties in between, or that are a mixture of, those of metals and nonmetals. There is neither a standard definition of a metalloid nor complete agreement on the elements appropriately classified as such. Despite the lack of specificity, the term remains in use in the literature of chemistry.. The six commonly recognised metalloids are boron ...

Thanks for your work in helping keep us informed, Dr. Curry. A few observations: 1) The evaluation of UN IPCC climate models' handling of radiation forcing and response at the surface shows us what we already intuit: Each modeling group makes up its own physics rules and parameterizations and there is no consistency in their "science."
