Hi Luke - The title simply asks the question of whether or not it is bad for your teeth. I wouldn't call it misleading though. Although flavored sparkling waters are more damaging than regular sparkling water, I believe that non-flavored sparkling water also has a slightly negative effect on your teeth because the carbonation breaks down into carbonic acid, which is acidic.

Is the damage you speak about to the eyes permanent? I ask because recently I've been having major work done and even though the assistant is being careful about where the light shines it still ends up blinding me because all the work is being done on my front teeth, upper and lower and the intensity is much worse while the work is being done on the upper teeth.
